Dear Bill, 6/21/75

I've not caught up on the accumulation of my last trip before I have to leave again, early a.m., on another. So I can't respond fully to your 6/14/75.

My purpose in asking that you keep this to yourself when if you knew how you could easily obtain a copy is the serious possibility of misuse. There has been some. Proper use requires much work on context.

Ignore the markings on the copy from which this copy was made. Some may be inaccurate. I know some are not mine. Do your own and careful thinking and reading and this will tell you much. Very much!

I have carrried it very much farther. The point to which I have carried it is one of my reasons for asking extreme caution. Please take my word for it.

Hasyily,
